Why our Saffron?

When it comes to selecting saffron for your culinary endeavors or personal use, there's no better choice than our meticulously curated saffron. What sets our saffron apart is a commitment to quality that goes above and beyond. Every batch of our saffron undergoes rigorous testing in a state-of-the-art laboratory to ensure that it meets the highest standards of purity and potency. This is not your ordinary saffron that you can pick up at the local market; it's a premium product that has been hand-selected and analyzed with precision. Our saffron stands out not only for its rich, vibrant color and exquisite aroma but also for the stringent quality control measures applied to every batch. When you choose our saffron, you're not just getting a spice; you're getting a guarantee of excellence in every strand.

Most expensive spice in the world

We all know that saffron is an expensive spice, but many of us are not aware that it is also the most expensive spice in the world. It is a spice and also a colour that is grown under special weather conditions and if we go by the reports, it is there for the last 3000 years. The plant is very delicate and blooms for only one week of the year.

Why it is so expensive

The reason lies in the process of making saffron. The process of plucking the mauve flowers involve at least six hours a day, as for 454 grams of dried saffron, 75000 flowers are required. So, it is a tradition in the families who are involved in the production of saffron that every member pitches in during the plucking season. The plucking process is also not easy, as the flowers grow only six inches off the ground, so the bending for 6 hours become tedious for every person involved in the process.

Rich in health benefits

Saffron is not just a spice, but a medicine too and that has been proved through various researchers. If we go by the reports, it has been proven that saffron helps improve mood, PMS symptoms, and aids weight loss as well.
